

RareCloth

By: Jeremy Schur, Enock Yared, Nick Wey, Kevin Kauffman

RareCloth

RareCloth is a web-app designed for fashion enthusiasts and collectors in search of rare and unique clothing items. The application provides a user friendly interface and leverages the power of random items or searching for specific items to connect users to one another and provide a safe and secure marketplace for its users to not only find but acquire the sought item in an effortless manner.

Tools Used

Diagrams

Lucid

IDE

Visual Studio Code

Communication

zoom, discord, group message

Project Tracker

Github

Code

HTML, Javascript,
CS

Database

PostgreSQL

VCS repo

Github

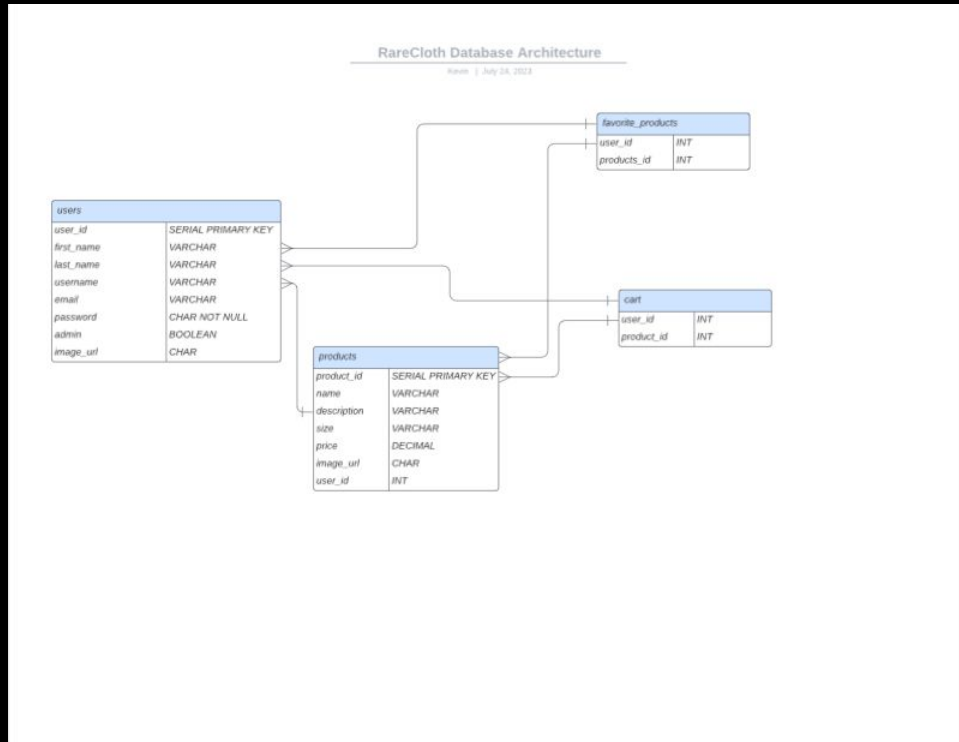

Framework

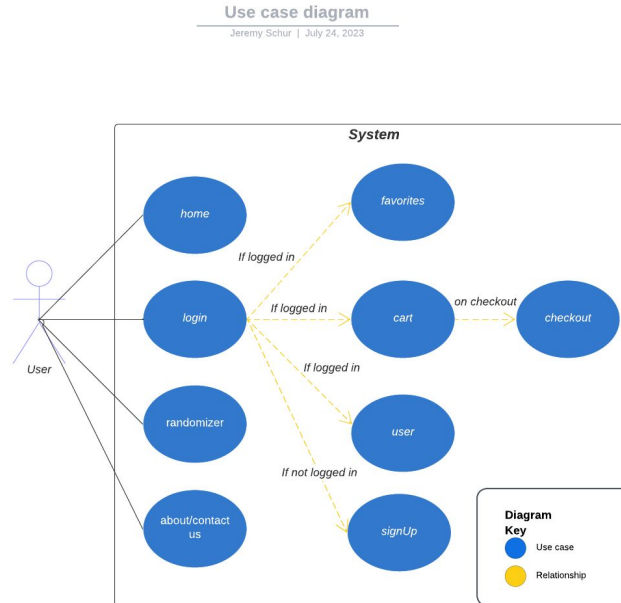

Node.js, DOcker

Database Architecture

Use Case

Challenges

Communication

who was doing what

Hashing

Storing passwords safely

Database

Working with and getting the tables functional

External API

Integrating and using an external api within the webpage

